

ENCORE!
Be Part of the Story

Chetham's School of Music is the largest specialist music school in the UK and the only one in the North of England. We are proud to accept students based solely on their musical potential and never their ability to pay.

In April 2017, Chetham's will be transformed as we open The Stoller Hall, a brand new performance venue for Greater Manchester. With flawless acoustics and sublime design, the 500 seat Hall will be ideal for performances of all styles and for audiences of all ages to enjoy.

The Stoller Hall is just the second stage in a series of hugely exciting capital developments that Chetham's has undertaken in recent years, beginning with the opening of the new School Building in 2012. Based within the heart of Manchester City Centre, the Hall will strengthen our position at the forefront of music education and culture in the North West and across the nation.

As a registered charity, we rely on the support of individuals, charitable trusts and businesses to help make this important vision a reality.

"This is our home, but it's not just for us. We want to share it with the people of Manchester, musicians from across the country, and visitors from around the world."

Stephen Threlfall
Director of Music, Chetham's School of Music

Be Part of the Story

The Stoller Hall

The Stoller Hall will be the place where we share our incredible work and where our students learn from other artists and the community. We have developed a range of naming opportunities that are ideal for you to support all of our exciting developments whilst leaving a legacy to be enjoyed for years to come:

Bar

The social hub of the Hall; naming the bar will position you at the centre of an evening's excitement.

Balcony Seating

With a view across The Stoller Hall, the Balcony provides an exclusive and intimate experience for any performance.

Terrace

The Terrace is a private lounge area providing an intimate setting for you and your guests, overlooking the Oglesby Atrium and with easy access to the Balcony.

Box Office

No performance can happen without a Box Office - your name here will make you an essential part of The Stoller Hall.

Cloakroom

Welcome our visitors in out of the rain of Manchester!

The New School Building

We also have a number of exciting naming opportunities still available in the new School Building. With over 100 music practice rooms, a music technology centre and the 120-seat Carole Nash Hall, the new School Building has been an unqualified success and forms the heart of all we do at Chetham's.

Music Practice and Teaching Rooms

Fully sound-proofed, these bright, spacious rooms are where learning is brought to life and are essential to the development of our students' musical potential.

Music Technology Centre

Including fully-equipped recording studios and editing suites, here students can create and record their musical legacy.

Naming opportunities are available for donations from £10,000.
